

Who are my ideal clients

My ideal clients are often introverts in a world for extroverts. You find that you are energized by being by yourself, rather than with people. And, you would love to connect with someone who can understand you.

Personality:

- You want to be seen and heard
- You wonder why others get all the attention and accolades
- You consider yourself to be an able pioneer
- You are creative and sensitive
- You get joy from expressing your passion
- You have something inside to share with the world

Needs – one or more of the following:

- Clarity and direction
- You wish you were connected to your inner core
- Want to write and publish a book one day
- Want to work for yourself
- Want to have a career with meaning and purpose
- Be in a fulfilling relationship
